The Mystic World of Aura

By Priti Shroff, MD-Prisim.

Fashion has become the style statement, so have we started loosely attaching all the words related to Alternative Therapies, as if they are the words only for the elite and the socialites. But, all the therapies are for the masses at large. For example, perhaps you felt a change in the atmosphere, when someone, who was intense or hostile, sat next to you on the bus or train!? If you are particularly sensitive, you may have felt that they had invaded your 'personal space'.

Aura has fascinated us for a long time, as one can remember. We never realized that each one of us has an aura. In the olden days, it was depicted in religious paintings; hence we thought it was confined to only highly evolved souls, such as great religious teachers, saints or Gods. But, with times now, we know that every object, animate or inanimate, has its own aura. This is the energetic envelope that surrounds everyone and everything.

Aura is a field of energy surrounding the human body, which can be both seen and felt by those who have attuned to its higher vibrational frequency. It has seven layers, each one emitting from a specific chakra and coloured by the quality of energy in that chakra.

The colours in our aura can tell a lot about our personality, the effects and likely effects upon our physical body, astrological effects, and also our blockages.

Auric scan patterns are generated using the latest aura scanning equipment and devices. Aura scanning can determine which area of our body is in need of healing. Once the aura scan pattern is examined, solutions best suited for the problem can be selected. Thus, both preventive and curative correction of energy patterns are possible.

There are different types of aura devices to measure aura. The oldest being Kirlian Photography and the other being 'Electro-Meridian' devices.

The recent technology device, used at Prisim, for detecting aura is Resonant Field Imaging (RFI). The aura image created by this computer programme shows clearly defined regions of the aura, and distinguishes between the health level and psychological 'emotional' level of the aura. It also clearly shows the identity and colour of bioenergy in each of the seven major chakras. Chakras are bioenergy located along the spinal column, which contain energy-information related to corresponding endocrine gland.

Thus, an aura scan is not only for healing but also preventing!
