Numerology is based on the idea that everything in the universe is both made up of and affected by numbers. Numerology uses both the letters in your name (which are first translated into numbers) and the numbers in your birth date to give indications of your true nature, your desires and your destiny.

In numerology, the numbers in both your name and in your birth date are added together to arrive at a single digit that is then analyzed to reveal a meaning. By using your full name, the separate parts of your name and your birth date in various combinations much can be revealed about who you are and who you are meant to be.

Although the exact origin of Numerology hasn't been truly determined, there are strong clues. The Pythagorean and Chaldean schools of numbers are the most commonly used. Chaldean Numerology is older, but the Pythagorean system of numbers is far more popular especially in the west. Vedic Numerology is vastly used in India and takes into account not just the general numbers, but also the Planets connected to each number and its effect on our life.

Pythagoras was considered a master mathematician. Born in Greece in the 6th century B.C., he demonstrated a natural gift with numbers. Many people are familiar with his theorems in geometry. However, he is also considered to be the Father of Modern Numerology. It has been recorded that he spent many years of study in Egypt and other parts of the world learning the ancient science of numbers. He later brought this knowledge back to Greece, where he taught for nearly forty years, and established a college and philosophy of numbers that bear his name to this very day.

It was said that Pythagoras taught in secret. That each student, selected with care, had to go through a five-year period of perfect silence for the purpose of contemplation to develop a deep sense of faith. Furthermore, his students had to commit his teachings to memory, for it was forbidden to put any of it in writing. It was only after his death, around the year 500 B.C., that his faithful followers broke with this tradition.

The Pythagorean system of numerology is the most widely used form of numerology. This is most likely due to the fact that it is very straightforward and easy to learn.

Your Life path number is the most important number in your numerology chart. It indicates what talents, personality traits, and abilities you were born with, while your destiny number indicates what you must strive to become.

“Numerology uses both the letters in your name (which are first translated into numbers) and the numbers in your birth date to give indications of your true nature, your desires and your destiny.”

Life Path number shows us the natural talents and abilities that we were born with. In other words, it helps us identify the things that we have the innate ability to achieve - often without training.

Life Path number is represented by the day that you were born, and Destiny number represents the total of your full Birthdate.

For example, if you were born on December 26, 1978, then you would calculate your Life Path in the following manner:

Birthdate: 12/26/1978

Life Path Number:

$$2 + 6 = 8$$

Destiny Number:

$$12 + 26 + 1978$$

$$(1 + 2) + (2 + 6) + (1 + 9 + 7 + 8)$$

$$3 + 8 + 25$$

$$3 + 8 + (2 + 5)$$

$$3 + 8 + 7$$

$$18 (1 + 8) = 9 - \text{Destiny Number}$$

The Pythagorean Number Values

The following chart shows the numbers assigned to each letter in Pythagorean numerology and is the basis for many numerology readings. To read the chart, find the letter you are looking for and look at the corresponding number at the top of the column containing the letter. For example, the letter A would be 1, the letter B would be 2, the letter C would be 3, etc.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I
J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R
S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z

Modern-day numerology charts are based upon the Pythagorean system.

The purpose of numerology is not to foretell the future, but to provide you with keys to explore and discover your own potentials and destiny. Today, let us calculate and see what our Life Path Number says about us.

Life Path 1: People with a Life Path of 1 are natural born leaders. If you are a Life Path 1, you can be extremely determined and self-motivated and won't let anything stand in your way of accomplishing a goal. Your drive allows you to overcome any obstacle or challenge you may encounter, and you have the desire to accomplish great things with your life.

On the negative side, if you are a Life path 1 you can have a tendency to be self-centered, egotistical and demanding.

Life Path 2: People with a Life Path 2 are natural peacemakers. If you have a Life Path of 2, you are extremely sensitive to others and have the ability to truly listen. You are sincere, honest and open and see the best in people. Because of your sensitivity, gentleness and loving spirit, you make an excellent friend or lover.

Your sensitivity can also in some ways be your downfall. Many people with a Life Path of 2 are oversensitive, shy, and afraid to speak their minds. Because you are afraid of being hurt you may avoid confrontation and hold back your opinions.

Life Path 3: People with a Life Path 3 are creative, optimistic souls. If your Life Path is a 3 you have a very high level of creativity and self-expression. You are extremely optimistic and find the positive in everything around you....sometimes even to the point of being overly optimistic.

Because you enjoy living life to the fullest, sometimes you may tend to live superficially or have a lack of direction in your life. You also often procrastinate Life Path 4: People with a Life Path 4 are the worker bees of society. If your Life Path is a 4 you are determined, practical and hard working. Down-to-earth is a term that is probably often used to describe you. You find hard work rewarding and don't look for the easy way to the top or to finding success. Not only do you work hard yourself, but you expect the same from those around you.

On the negative side, you can be so set in your ways that you can often come across as stubborn, rigid or too serious. You also have a tendency to overlook tact and let your true feelings be known to all those around you, which can sometimes turn other people away from you.

Life Path 5: People with a Life Path 5 value freedom above all else. If your Life Path is a 5 you are a curious adventurer constantly seeking change and variety in life. You love meeting new people, trying new things, living life for today. Your curiosity leads you to constantly try to find the answers to life's questions. Conservative is a word that is probably never used to describe you as you love taking risks and hate routine or repetition.

Because you are always seeking the next adventure, your life can lack direction. You may feel a sense of restlessness if you are stuck in a mundane or repetitive way of life. This can cause you to be discontent and impatient unless you are constantly on the go.

Life Path 6: People with a Life Path 6 are incredible nurturers. If your Life Path is a 6 you are an excellent caretaker and provider. Your life revolves around home and family, and your parenting instincts are very strong. You enjoy being of service to others, and this is especially true with your family and friends. The word "domestic" most likely describes you well.

As a 6 you should keep an eye on yourself as you may become self-righteous and critical of others. Because you are so giving you might have a tendency to become a slave to others and neglect your own needs in the process.

Life Path 7: A person who is a Life Path 7 is a thinker. If your Life Path is a 7 you are wise and studious. You seek truth and wisdom in all that you do and search for the underlying answers in everything. Your tendency is to be a perfectionist, and you expect the same from those around you. Others may see you as eccentric.

Your love of solitude can make it difficult for you to form close relationships. While you value your independence, you may often feel lonely or isolated because you lack closeness with others. One of the challenges for you is to find a balance between maintaining your solitude while not becoming completely isolated.

Life Path 8: People with a Life Path 8 are born with natural leadership skills. If your Life Path is an 8 you are very ambitious and goal oriented. You have strong organizational skills and broad vision which make you successful in business.

Because you consider status very important you may be tempted to live above your means. You should also pay special attention to telling and showing your loved ones that you care - being a good provider isn't the only way of doing this.

Life Path 9: People with a Life Path 9 are humanitarians. If your Life Path is a 9 you have an extremely strong sense of compassion and generosity. You are selfless and helping others is very important to you. You not only want to help others, but you feel very deeply for those less fortunate than yourself.

Because you are so giving you may find that your finances are not in the greatest shape. You may also have a tendency to be scattered - your talents lie in so many different directions that you may find it difficult to focus on just one.

Numerology is a tool that helps us understand ourselves and others better. Your numerology reading gives your great insight into who you are as an individual, why you make the choices that you do, and why you draw the people and situations to you that you do. It describes the opportunities and challenges that you will be facing, and how you will address them. This is the most important piece of information that you will find in your numerological chart, and will go a long way towards explaining why things happen to you, and why you react in the manner that you do.
